(MSPC) 2019

B. Bi-Strategic Command Directive 087-002, dated 27 Aug 2013

1. I cordially invite you to attend the Military Strategic Partnership Conference (MSPC) 2019, which will be held 25-29 March 2019, at the Dead Sea Marriot Hotel in Jordan. We look forward to continue improving partnership processes, to enhance the Partnership Country Team Approach and to build on the Lessons Learned from the 2018 Military Partnership Coordination Workshop in Skopje.

2. My objectives for the Conference are to advance NATO partnership processes (SAP, PCM etc.) and programmes (OCC, DCB, PARP etc.); secure planning of efforts; and provide at minimum an 80% solution to 2020 Partner Capital's ambitions for Education, Training, Exercise and Evaluation (ETEE). Furthermore, I expect to exchange information between NATO and Partners on new developments in Cooperative Security and to discuss partnerships programmes for future years.

3. NATO Education and Training Facilities (NETFs), NATO Centres of Excellences (COEs) and Partnership Training and Education Centres (PTEC) engaged in supporting military partnership activities are invited to take advantage of this opportunity, specifically to exhibit and discuss current and potential engagement with a wide spectrum of partners. Exhibition, as a part of MSPC 19, will take place over the period 26-28 March 2019.

4. I am looking forward to seeing exhibitors/representatives from all of the institutions engaged in supporting military partnership. Please pay close attention to all relevant information and deadlines provided in the annexes. For further and continuously updated information please visit our Conference website at <https://shape.nato.int/upcoming-events/military-strategic-partnership-conference-2019>.
